DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on December 27, 2004 has been entered.

Election/Restrictions

2. Newly submitted claims 15-18 directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: the new claims are to a method operating a battery. However the battery of claims 1, 3, 5-9 and 11-14

3. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product can be used in other methods wherein the maximum operating voltage is less than 4.2 V.

Furthermore the scope of the biphenyl derivatives of the product of claims 1, 3, 5-9 and 11-14 and that of the method are not coextensive.

Art Unit: 1745

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 15-19 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Information Disclosure Statement

4. The information disclosure statement filed December 27, 2004 has been placed in the application file and the information referred to therein has been considered as to the merits.

Claim Objections

5. Claims 8 and 11 objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 7. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3, 5-9, 11-12 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP 11-329493 A (JP '493).

Art Unit: 1745

In the comparative example of JP '493, a biphenyl compound is employed (paragraphs [0054]-[0058]). The biphenyl compound is identified as compound A and, appears to be represented as example E-11 in tables 1 and 2. The amount of the additive relative to the weight of the electrolyte is from 1g-100g per 1 kg of electrolyte (paragraph [0014]). This arrives at a weight percentage of 0.001 to 0.1 wt% for the additive compound. Therefore in example E-11, the biphenyl will be in a weight percentage which is within the instant claimed range (as applied to claims 1, 3, 9 and 14).

The non-aqueous solvent comprises cyclic carbonates and linear carbonates as well as high dielectric carbonates and low viscosity solvents (paragraph [0030] as applied to claims 5-8 and 11).

The ratio of EC to DEC is 22.2g EC to 65.3g DEC or a ratio of 1:2.94 (paragraph [0056] as applied to claims 7, 8, 11 and 12).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP '493 in view of JP 63-102173 (JP '173).

The teachings of claim 1 have been discussed above and are incorporated herein.

Art Unit: 1745

The difference between claim 13 and JP '493 is that JP '493 does not teach of the electrolytic solution further containing vinylene carbonate or 1,3-propanesultone.

The presence of 1,3-propanesultone in the electrolytic solution increases the charge-discharge cycle of a lithium secondary battery (abstract of JP '173). Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made to modify the teachings of JP '493 by adding 1,3-propanesultone to the electrolytic solution since it would have increased the charge-discharge cycle of a lithium secondary battery. The selection of a known material based on its suitability for its intended use supported a prima facie obviousness determination in Sinclair & Carroll Co. v. Interchemical Corp., 325 U.S. 327, 65 USPQ 297 (1945) See also In re Leshin, 227 F.2d 197, 125 USPQ 416 (CCPA 1960). MPEP § 2144.07.
